

Making SMSCD Special

Wednesday 30th November 2016

- In what can spiritual, moral, social and cultural development “look like” for learners who are developing in atypical ways?
- How do we enable authentic learner voice within cultural and religious festivals and celebrations?
- Are young people with autism more vulnerable to religious and political extremism?

How can we assess and evaluate spiritual, moral, social and cultural development within a special school?

This event will be an opportunity to observe collective worship and spiritual development within a special school with outstanding provision for SMSC development.

Making SMSC Special' is a project for building a Professional Learning Community (PLC) around the Spiritual, Social, Moral and Cultural Development of children and young people with complex learning difficulties and disabilities. It is supported through an exciting collaboration between Culham St Gabriel's Trust and Swiss Cottage Teaching School Alliance

The day will include:
